Evaluation of Campus Performance in Community and Student Engagement

A. P. Wooldridge Elementary School

Expanding State Accountability Beyond Testing

Starting in 2013-14, every school district must evaluate each campus and the district as a whole on nine factors, as well as overall performance, and assign ratings of Exemplary, Recognized, Acceptable, or Unacceptable. The new rating system is required by House Bill 5 (see TEC § 39.0545 for details about the law).

This allows each campus to showcase the opportunities they provide to students, families, and the community in areas other than standardized testing.

How were the criteria for these ratings developed?

The legislation did not permit TEA to determine the criteria for these evaluations; criteria were to be developed by a local committee. The AISD District Advisory Council (DAC) was identified as the local committee.

October 2013: A DAC subcommittee made up of parents, teachers, staff, and community members met to discuss the new law and come up with a proposed framework.

December 2013: All district principals participated in workshops to help develop a list of ten indicators for each of the nine factors.

January 2014: Content experts were consulted to provide feedback and suggest improvements on the list of indicators. The DAC subcommittee reviewed the feedback and made modifications.

February 2014: The full DAC voted to accept the recommendation of the subcommittee. The proposed list of indicators was presented to Senior Cabinet, Principals, and Campus Advisory Councils.

March 2014: Community input was gathered through the district's website. Feedback from these groups was integrated.

April 2014: The proposed plan was taken to the Board of Trustees for discussion and feedback.

The 2013-14 school year will serve as a baseline year for this process. The DAC will have the opportunity to re-evaluate the process for future years, and make modifications if necessary.
