GRADE 8 | LESSON 6
SEXUALITY & SEXUAL HEALTH
LESSON SUMMARY

LESSON 6: SEXUALITY AND SEXUAL HEALTH

• In this lesson, students will reflect on the concept of human sexuality by examining the messages they receive from friends, family, media, society and culture about sexual behavior and how these messages influence their own attitudes. Students will learn about sexual health as a lifelong goal that is much more than simply sexual behavior or activity.
LEARNING OBJECTIVES

CORE CONCEPTS

• Describe male and female sexual and reproductive systems including body parts and their functions. (NSES AP.8.CC.1)

ANALYZING INFLUENCES & ACCESSING INFORMATION

• Examine how alcohol and other substances,* friends, family, media, society and culture influence decisions about engaging in sexual behaviors. (NSES PR.8.INF.1)

• Identify accurate and credible sources of information about sexual health. (NSES AP.8.AI.1)

* Alcohol and other substances are addressed in Lesson 8
ADVANCE PREPARATION

MATERIALS

• (optional) Class Set copies of The Science of Love Infographic
• One or two sets of “human sexuality person” cut outs per class period
• One set of “guiding questions” per set of “human sexuality person” cut outs
• One copy of “Know Your Body” anchor per set of “human sexuality person” cut outs
• Student notebooks or scrap paper

ACTIONS

• Ensure pedagogical familiarity and comfort with lesson plan
• Decide which video students will watch for “Finding Out Who You Are” activity
• Plan where students will write end-of-lesson reflection
• Plan how you will group students for Human Sexuality Person activity
• (optional) Set up Human Sexuality Person activity as stations
• Ensure functioning of audiovisual setup
• Test video playback
• Questions? Contact Michele Rusnak or a district STEM Coach.
ADVANCE PREPARATION: HUMAN SEXUALITY PERSON

You will need at least one (1) set of labeled cutouts per class period.

For large classes, consider having two (2) sets of labeled cutouts to keep group sizes manageable.

At the end of the activity, the pieces will be assembled into a “human sexuality person.”
ADVANCE PREPARATION:
HUMAN SEXUALITY PERSON (CONT’D)

Recommended: One (1) set of “guiding questions” for each set of cutouts

VALUES, BELIEFS, AND NO.

What are they?
- Roles, values, and ideas we have from society, our culture, and our families.
- What did your family teach you about sex? What didn’t they teach you?
- What beliefs about sex do you have?
- What have you learned from society, your media, friends, and family?

GENDER ROLES

What are they?
- Culturally accepted and expected behaviors associated with gender.
- For example, the expected behaviors associated with being a man, a woman, transgender, genderqueer, etc.
- These expectations can often be stereotypical.
- Gender roles are constructed and culture-specific.
- The stereotypes can sometimes be harmful to people.

Helpful questions to consider:
- What do we learn about gender?
- How do we learn about gender?
- Are there different roles for men and women? What are they?
- What do you think about them?

• These expectations can often be stereotypical.
- Gender roles are constructed and culture-specific.
- The stereotypes can sometimes be harmful to people.

SEXUAL ORIENTATION

What is it?
- What are we attracted to?
- The values that we learn about attraction and identity.

Helpful questions to consider:
- What are some differences in how people feel about parts of our body?
- What role do we play in our identity?
- How are we perceived by others?
- Are there different parts of our body that are attractive or not?

BODY IMAGE & BODY PARTS

What is it?
- The way we describe and think about parts of our body.

Helpful questions to consider:
- How do we feel about parts of our body?
- What are some different parts of our body?

COMMUNICATION & RELATIONSHIPS

What is it?
- The types of relationships and the ways that people communicate in relationships.

Helpful questions to consider:
- What type of communication does a person need to be in a healthy relationship?
- What kind of qualities make a “good” relationship partner?
The “Know Your Body” anchor should accompany the “Body Image and Body Parts” topic.

ADVANCE PREPARATION:

HUMAN SEXUALITY PERSON (CONT’D)

- Female anatomy
  - Vagina
  - Urethra
  - Uterus, cervix, and ovaries
  - Epididymis and vas deferens
- Body parts & Body Image
  - Nipple
  - Armpit
  - Arm
  - Thigh
  - Face
  - Breast
  - Penis

- What is it?
  - Parts of the human body
  - What is your body
desirable or beautiful?
- How do we feel about our bodies?
- What are some different ideas we have about body

WARM UP
Instruct students to use the words around the perimeter of the slide to complete the sentences. They can work alone or in pairs. Solicit responses from students as you show the answers on the screen using the animated slide.

REVIEW: THE SCIENCE OF LOVE

TEACHER

1. All our emotions are produced by the brain, including love. They are generated by electrical signals with the help of some chemicals called neurotransmitters.

2. When love hits, first we feel a strong attraction towards the other person. This is triggered by the activation of the limbic nervous system (the primitive brain) and the release of sex hormones (estrogen and testosterone).

3. This initial stage of love is mostly unconscious which means we can’t really control it.

4. Love is sometimes said to be like a drug because it activates dopamine which is part of the brain’s “reward system.”

Transition: There’s a lot going on in your brain and body when it comes to romantic feelings. These kinds of experiences often challenge a person’s self-concept and make them start their self-concept, or the answer to the question, “Who am I?”. Today we are going to talk about the things that can influence your self-concept around sex and sexuality.
1. All our emotions are produced by the _______, including love. They are generated by electrical signals with the help of some chemicals called _______.

2. When love hits, first we feel a strong _______ towards the other person. This is triggered by the activation of the limbic nervous system (the primitive brain) and the release of sex _______ (estrogen and testosterone).

3. This initial stage of love is mostly _______ which means we can’t really control it.

4. Love is sometimes said to be like a _______ because it activates dopamine which is part of the brain’s “_______ system.”

FIGURING OUT WHO YOU ARE
INSTRUCTIONS: FIGURING OUT WHO YOU ARE

ADVANCED PREP

• Preview the two videos and decide which one you want to show to your students. The purpose is to recognize adolescence as a time of discovery and change and review the factors that influence self-concept.
  • Puberty and Finding Out Who You Are (Amaze.org)
  • Figuring Out Who You Are (Amaze.org)

IMPLEMENTATION

• Use the animated slide, “Review: What Influences Self-Concept” to briefly review…
  • Self-Concept
  • What influences self-concept
• Ask students to keep track of the emotions the character experiences and what influences are acting on the character’s self-concept.
REVIEW: WHAT INFLUENCES SELF-CONCEPT?

Social Institutions:

- Individual Self
- Relational Self
- Collective Self

Socialization is how we learn the norms and beliefs of our society. From our earliest family and play experiences, we are made aware of societal values and expectations. This learning takes place through interaction with various agents of socialization, like peer groups and families, plus both formal and informal social institutions.

Attributes and personality traits that differentiate us from other individuals. Examples include introversion or extroversion.

Defined by our relationships with significant others. Examples include siblings, friends, and spouses.

Reflects our membership in social groups. Examples include British, Republican, African-American, or gay.
List some of the emotions this character experiences on the “Teen Rollercoaster”.

SEX, SEXUALITY AND SEXUAL HEALTH
ADVANCE PREPARATION:
SEX, SEXUALITY AND
SEXUAL HEALTH

- Preview the definitions and the slide animations to ensure you can read them fluidly and are familiar with how the animations work.
- Some of the wording is technical; practice varying your tone and speed to help students process the information while you are reading it aloud.
INSTRUCTIONS: SEX, SEXUALITY AND SEXUAL HEALTH

• Use the animations on the following slides to help students understand that "sexuality" is much broader than the act of "sex" and that "sexual health" is a lifelong goal that encompasses many aspects.
• Which of these concepts was the character in the video trying to figure out?

Sex
Sexuality
Sexual Health
Sexual health

According to the current working definition, sexual health is:

“...a state of physical, emotional, mental and social well-being in relation to sexuality; it is not merely the absence of disease, dysfunction or infirmity. Sexual health requires a positive and respectful approach to sexuality and sexual relationships, as well as the possibility of having pleasurable and safe sexual experiences, free of coercion, discrimination and violence. For sexual health to be attained and maintained, the sexual rights of all persons must be respected, protected and fulfilled.” (WHO, 2006a)

Sexuality

Sexual health cannot be defined, understood or made operational without a broad consideration of sexuality, which underlies important behaviours and outcomes related to sexual health. The working definition of sexuality is:

“...a central aspect of being human throughout life encompasses sex, gender identities and roles, sexual orientation, eroticism, pleasure, intimacy and reproduction. Sexuality is experienced and expressed in thoughts, fantasies, desires, beliefs, attitudes, values, behaviours, practices, roles and relationships. While sexuality can include all of these dimensions, not all of them are always experienced or expressed. Sexuality is influenced by the interaction of biological, psychological, social, economic, political, cultural, legal, historical, religious and spiritual factors.” (WHO, 2006a)
Sexuality is...

a central aspect of being human.

Sexuality is influenced by the interaction of...

biological, social, political, legal, religious, psychological, economic, cultural, historical, and spiritual... factors.

Sexuality encompasses...

sex, gender identity, gender roles, sexual orientation, eroticism, pleasure, intimacy, and reproduction.

Sexuality can be experienced and expressed in...

thoughts, fantasies, desires, beliefs, attitudes, values, behaviors, practices, roles, and relationships... factors.

W-H-O WORKING DEFINITION OF SEXUAL HEALTH (TEACHER)

Sexual health is a state of:

- physical
- emotional
- mental
- social well-being in relation to sexuality.

Sexual health requires...

- a positive
- pleasurable
- safe

...as well as the possibility of having sexual experiences...

...free from coercion, discrimination and violence.

In the student-facing slide animation, this phrase (highlighted here in red) is presented first as the “basic” definition of sexual health. The rest of the WHO definition is about the factors that make this possible.
Sexual health is a state of physical, emotional, mental, and social well-being in relation to sexuality.

Sexual health requires a positive and respectful approach to sexuality and sexual relationships... …as well as the possibility of having pleasurable and safe sexual experiences... …free from coercion, discrimination and violence.

THE INFLUENCES ON SEXUAL SELF-CONCEPT
OVERVIEW: HUMAN SEXUALITY PERSON

- SFUSD Lesson 3: Human Sexuality - Human Sexuality Person (pp. 2 - 5)
- In small groups, students reflect on the messages they get from friends, family, media, society and culture around human sexuality.
- The teacher will then facilitate a short discussion that prompts students to reflect on the activity and how all of these message impact may impact the decisions they make about their own sexuality.
At your discretion, consider setting this activity up as stations around your classroom.

TEACHER CONSIDERATIONS:

HUMAN SEXUALITY PERSON GROUPS

Pre-plan how you will get students in groups. Recommended group size is 2-3 students. To save time, consider assigning groups ahead of time.

Large classes may need to create 2 human sexuality “people” to keep group sizes small enough that all members have a role.

Consider whether group roles would help students work more efficiently. Possible group roles: scribe, timekeeper, teacher liaison. Be sure they understand all group members are responsible for the ideas that the scribe writes.

GROUPS

TIMING

- It is recommended for groups to spend 2 – 5 minutes brainstorming per topic
- What structures / techniques will you use to…
  - Help students be productive in the time given?
  - Let students know when it is time to switch to the next topic?
TEACHER INSTRUCTIONS:
HUMAN SEXUALITY PERSON

For large classes, consider creating two (2) human sexuality “people” to keep group sizes manageable.

Break the students up into 5 groups. Distribute one of the Human Sexuality Topic Sheets (Communication & Relationships; Body Parts & Body Image; Gender Roles; Sexual Orientation; Values, Beliefs & Norms) to each group. Give the group about 2-5 minutes to brainstorm their ideas on the sheet and then rotate the topics sheets to a new group. Let the students know that there are no “right” or “wrong” answers for this activity. Instruct the group to engage in free word association- they should write down what they have learned about the particular topic and what comes to mind when they see the category.

Suggested Script:
We are going to do an activity that allows you to think about the messages you have received about sex and sexuality from the world around you. These messages may be from family, friends, school, media, tv, religion, or your community or culture. You will be put into small groups and each group will receive a topic to think about and brainstorm ideas onto the poster. There are no “right” or “wrong” answers in this activity. All ideas should be written on the paper. After a few minutes we will rotate the posters so your group can work on a new topic. At the end, we will discuss all of the ideas and messages you wrote on the posters.
In this activity, you will be reflecting on the influences that help shape your self-concept around sexuality. In other words, what messages about sexuality do you receive from friends, family, media, society and culture?

Topics for Reflection
- Values, beliefs and norms
- Gender roles
- Sexual orientation
- Body parts and body image
- Communication and relationships

GUIDING QUESTIONS

• Each topic has “helpful questions” to guide your reflections
• You do not have to answer all of them!
• Pick one or more questions that you and your group members find interesting

VALUES, BELIEFS, AND NORMS

Helpful questions to consider:
- What did your family teach you about sex? What did they not teach you about sex?
- What beliefs about sex, dating, and relationships does your family have?
- What have you learned from the media about sex?
Teacher Tip:
As the students are working, walk around the room and offer assistance to each group. Encourage each member of the group to share their ideas. Make sure all students’ ideas are honored in the group. The group does not have to agree on everything that is written on the paper. It’s important to remind students that while everyone has the right to their own beliefs, they should be respectful in how they communicate those beliefs.
TEACHER INSTRUCTIONS:
HUMAN SEXUALITY PERSON (CONT’D)

When all groups have finished, read aloud some of the comments from each category or have students present each topic sheet. If there are questions or misconceptions written in the categories make sure to address them.

One you have reviewed each poster, briefly discuss the activity with the class. Here are some possible discussion questions:

- What were some things you felt during this exercise?
- Why do you suppose we did this exercise
- What do all of these categories have in common?
Once you have completed a brief discussion, take the topic sheets and tape them together in the front of the room. The pieces should be taped together so that they form a person. Place the “Human Sexuality” sheet in the middle as the “body” of the person. It will look like this:
Close the activity by reminding students that each person’s sexuality is unique and different. Reinforce the importance of being aware of and examining the messages students receive about sex and how those messages can influence decision making.

Suggested Script:
Each of you today brought your own values and ideas to this activity. Each of your experiences helped shape who you are today. Our individuality is a lot like our sexuality. Each person has a different perception, connection, and understanding of their own sexuality. Many people think sex and sexuality are only related to body parts, sexual behaviors, and fantasies. But, our sexuality is so much more than that. These other categories play a huge role in forming our sexuality. When we are able to think about our feelings in relation to these different categories we can begin to understand ourselves more.

It’s important to understand our values and beliefs about being sexual and how they relate to who we are today. The sexual decisions we make in life are not only connected to if we are attracted to someone or not, but are also related to the different values we hold, what we have learned from our families and our cultures, how we feel about our bodies, and more. By looking at the “big picture” of sexuality we can begin to explore all of our ideas around these topics. We will continue to talk about sexuality over the course of these (insert whatever time frame you will be with this class) and that’s why we are beginning here, so that you all can begin to think about your own sexuality, and how that relates to who you are and what you know today.
ACCESSING ACCURATE INFORMATION
INSTRUCTIONS: ACCESSING ACCURATE INFORMATION

As time allows, provide students time to browse these websites and then facilitate a short discussion about what characteristics make these websites “credible” and “accurate.”

Consider your source's credibility. Ask these questions:

Contributor/Author
- Has the author written several articles on the topic, and do they have the credentials to be an expert in their field?
- Can you contact them? Do they have social media profiles?
- Have other credible individuals referenced this source or author?
- Book: What have reviews said about it?

Publisher
- What do you know about the publisher/sponsor? Are they well-respected?
- Do they take responsibility for the content? Are they selective about what they publish?
- Take a look at their other content. Do these other articles generally appear credible?

Bias
- Does the author or the organization have a bias? Does bias make sense in relation to your argument?
- Is the purpose of the content to inform, entertain, or to spread an agenda? Is there commercial intent?
- Are there ads?

Currency
- When was the source published or updated? Is there a date shown?
- Does the publication date make sense in relation to the information presented to your argument?
- Does the source even have a date?

Reproduced
- Was it reproduced? If so, from where?
- If it was reproduced, was it done so with permission? Copyright/disclaimer included?
REFLECTION
Consider some of the messages about human sexuality that were brought up as part of the “Human Sexuality Person Activity” to complete these prompts individually:

- One message that I agree with is… because…
- One message that I disagree with is… because…
- One message that I am not sure about is… because…
