A New Northeast Middle School

As part of the 2017 Bond Program, a new 800-student-capacity middle school will be built. Middle school students who reside in the Jordan, Overton, Blanton, the northernmost area of Pecan Springs, and the southernmost area of Winn will have the opportunity to learn in a bright, modern school with flexible classrooms to serve all communities at a new site. These campus communities will have the opportunity to provide input on the programming offered at the new middle school. Student assignments to the new middle school will be reassessed closer to the opening date of the school as these areas are anticipated to decline in population. Additional students from the new Norman-Sims (including the southernmost portion of Pecan Springs) and Maplewood (within the Mueller subdivision) attendance areas may be included if it is determined that space is available.

Middle school attendance areas will be adjusted at Dobie, Lamar, Martin, and Webb. Additionally, the Sadler Means Young Women’s Leadership Academy will close, and students attending Sadler Means will have the option to attend Ann Richards School for Young Women Leaders or their assigned school. When the Sadler Means facility closes, the resources from that facility will be invested to enhance academic programming at Dobie, Lamar, and Martin.

Serving Students

Building the new middle school in the Northeast area of the district provides these students with the opportunity to learn in a bright, modern school with flexible classrooms.

The idea for this scenario will work independently of all other ideas, however, it will be significantly stronger and can achieve the intended results when combined with Elevating the Secondary Ethnic Studies Curriculum scenario on page 11.
