

Introduction to Results for the Class of 2012

The purpose of this survey is to monitor high school student perceptions of their high school experience. Results are used to improve the campus environment and program supports for students. Survey results also are used in the monitoring of the district strategic plan's Goal 3, which includes the measures of student self-confidence and attitudes toward school, work, and success. Seniors' responses to the multiple choice questions are organized into the following categories: postsecondary intentions and family support; high school experiences and campus climate; instruction and technology; postsecondary preparation and advising; and additional results.

About this survey.

The 10th annual Austin Independent School District (AISD) High School Exit Survey was administered online to seniors in every AISD high school during Spring 2012. On each campus, Project ADVANCE facilitators primarily were responsible for ensuring all seniors were given the opportunity to complete the survey. Special education chairs at each campus were tasked with providing eligible special education students with guidance and assistance in completing the survey.

This report contains the results for the AISD Class of 2012 at this campus. Where available, data are presented from previous senior classes and the district-level to compare with 2012 responses. At LBJ High School, 78 students in the Class of 2012 completed the survey, for an overall response rate of 38.6%.

At the district level, 3,413 students in the Class of 2012 completed the survey, for an overall response rate of 76.4%. District-level survey results are provided in a separate report and is available online.

Extracurricular activities provide intellectual and social development opportunities for students. Schools that provide more extracurricular activities and have more student participants have better academic outcomes in terms of students performing at grade level and staying in school than do schools that provide fewer such activities (Stearns & Glennie, 2009).

7. Please indicate the average number of hours per week you worked last summer and during your senior year.

	Percentage who worked summer prior to senior year		Percentage who worked during senior year

11 to 15 hours	3.0%	17.4%
16 or more hours	3.0%	4.7%

Compared with those who did not work, seniors who worked longer hours had significantly lower academic achievement, attendance, and educational aspirations. They were less engaged in extracurricular activities. They also were less likely to enroll in college. However, seniors working longer hours were more likely to save their earnings for postsecondary enrollment and were less likely to be unemployed 2 years after high school (Marsh & Kleitman, 2005).

Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID) students had higher aspirations, more college knowledge, and significantly higher academic preparation, than did other students in the same schools (Watt, et al, 2007).

Dual credit course enrollment is an effective strategy for encouraging student access to and persistence in postsecondary education (Karp & Hughes, 2008).

The completion of the FAFSA is important to entering and completing postsecondary education, especially for economically disadvantaged students. Students who completed the FAFSA were found 50% more likely to enroll in a 4-year college than were those who had not. Eighty-three percent of AISD's Class of 2010 who were enrolled in a postsecondary institution after high school completed a FAFSA (Looby, 2011).

31. If you did not submit a financial aid application, why not?

I did not know about the financial aid process	39.7%	40.0%	39.2%

About 38% of students reported they did not need financial aid, and almost 40% did not know about the process.

32. Without including any financial aid (such as loans, grants, scholarships or exemptions), full-time tuition and fees for one semester at _____ costs about...

Austin Community College		University of Texas		Harvard University		Total cost of books for one school year
$100	3%	$1,000	3%	$1,000	1%	$100	1%
$400	6%	$5,000	6%	$5,000	3%	$1,500	30%

Researchers consistently show that most parents and students are uninformed or poorly informed about college prices and financial aid, and students' postsecondary decisions are influenced by this limited knowledge (Perna, Lundy-Wagner, Yee, Brill, & Tadal, 2009).

Full-time tuition and fees for a semester cost about $900 at ACC, ranged between $4,673 and $5,369 at UT, and were $20,433 at Harvard. The total cost of books and supplies for one year of college is estimated at $1,100 by the College Board.
