

Survey Report

The sixth annual Austin Independent School District (AISD) High School Exit Survey was administered online to seniors in every AISD high school during Spring 2009. Facilitators on each campus, primarily Project ADVANCE counselors, were responsible for ensuring that all graduating seniors were given the opportunity to complete the survey.

This report contains the results for the Reagan High School Class of 2009. Where available, longitudinal data are presented to compare with the 2009 responses. In addition, average results from all AISD high schools are presented alongside results for Reagan for comparison purposes. In total, 3,365 students in the Class of 2009 completed the survey, including 112 students from Reagan. Longitudinal tests for statistical significance were conducted with district-level data (see district-level report). Table 1 presents longitudinal response rates by campus and by district. Next, major findings are presented, followed by open-ended campus-level responses and, finally, responses to the multiple choice items from the survey.

The report is structured as follows. First, a brief summary of key findings from the 2009 High School Exit Survey is provided. This summary is followed by a selection of open-ended student comments that capture the predominant themes that emerged from the student comments. Last, the detailed, item-specific results for each question from the survey are presented.

Table 1. High School Exit Survey Response Rates, Classes 2007-2009

	Class of 2007	Class of 2008	Class of 2009
All high schools	82.0%	74.8%	78.8%
Reagan	70.7%	39.6%	59.3%

Major Findings

Student responses are organized into seven general topics areas: Open-Ended Comments; Postsecondary Intentions and Family Support; High School Experiences, Campus Climate, and Civic Engagement; Instruction and Technology; Postsecondary Preparation and Advising; and Final Thoughts. Some of the notable trends at this campus include:

- Parent involvement. Compared to district seniors as a whole, fewer Reagan seniors appeared to have reported their parents helped them decide which classes to take, attended athletic, and attended performance events at their school.
- College preparation. Compared to seniors district-wide, it appeared lower percentages of Reagan seniors took the PSAT exam, AP/IB classes, college entrance tests, test preparation classes, visited college campuses, and completed ACC courses. The 2009 Reagan senior class seemed to be less likely than the 2008 class to report having applied to 2-year or 4-year colleges. This is the second consecutive year that these rates have fallen.

INDIVIDUAL ITEM RESPONSES FOR REAGAN HIGH SCHOOLOPEN ENDED COMMENTS

The responses below are to the question, “What is the ONE thing that you especially want the administration of AISD to know?”

Sixty-two students (55%) provided a response. Comments were overwhelmingly positive and included appreciation for the teachers and staff. Most students’ responses reflected the potential closure of Reagan, and their wishes that it remain open. Commonly identified themes expressed by the Class of 2009¹ include:

- Positive comments and Reagan’s potential closure. Many students perceived their experiences at Reagan as positive and hoped that it would not be closed. “One thing I want AISD to know, is that Reagan is a great school.” “That my learning experience at AISD schools has been a very fun and knowledgeable one. Thanks to the teachers here at Reagan High School” “that i will never forget reagan, and it has been a wonderful experience for me going there; considering that i went to other high schools” “John H. Reagan is an underdog school, that being so it makes everybody here fight much harder. Atleast, it makes the ones that want to do better for themselves. Don't close us down, it'll only make things worse. Especially it being in the saint johns area.” “yall shoudl probably get it together and help keep Reagan stay open rather than wanting it to close/sitting back and watching it close.”

¹ All student quotes are taken directly from the survey, as typed in by the students. Examples are given to illustrate common themes.
